The licensees shall be bound to conform to the terms of such licenses.

II. The Amildars of Taluks are empowered to issue licenses to Médars for felling and removing bamboos from District Forests up to a limit in each case of 20 head-loads. Licenses for cutting and removing unreserved timber and bamboos in District Forests required by traders and others, may also be issued by the Amildars up to a limit of 10 cart-loads in the case of timber and 20 cart-loads in the case of bamboos, and for any quantity exceeding that limit, by the Deputy Commissioners of Districts.

III. In any District or Taluk where depôts for the sale of wood or bamboos are established, the Inspector General of Forests may, if necessary, direct that no paid licenses be issued for the felling and removal of wood or bamboos from any Government Forest or land in such District or Taluk.

IV. No license shall be issued to any person for felling and removing wood or bamboos or for the collection and removal of any other Forest produce until that person has paid on account thereof into the Treasury of the District or Taluk in which the wood or bamboos or any other forest produce have to be cut or collected, the amount of duty prescribed in that behalf from time to time by a Notification in the Mysore Gazette, and has produced the Treasury receipt for having paid the same, to the Officer authorized to grant such license:

Provided that the rules contained in paras III and IV will not affect raiyats' privileges under Section 24 of the Forest Rules unless the same be withdrawn under Section 25.

V. The licensee shall be bound as regards any District Forest having no special protective establishment, to produce for examination to the Patel of the village within the limits of which said forest is situated, the wood or bamboos or any other forest produce he is removing under the authority of a license, and to obtain Patel's endorsement thereon as to the correctness of the quantity specified in the license. As regards any forest having a special protective staff, the licensee shall show the license prior to entering the forest to the official in charge of such forest, and shall, after felling and before removal of wood or bamboos or any other forest produce from such forest, get the same examined and obtain an endorsement as above.

VI. After the wood or bamboos or any other forest produce has been removed to the destination, or at the end of the period specified in the license for the removal of such wood or bamboos or any other forest produce, whichever may happen first, the holder of the license shall deliver the same to the Issuing officer or to the Amildar of the Taluk into which such wood or bamboos or any other forest produce is or is intended to be removed, or to any official appointed to receive the same, and when such wood or bamboos or forest produce is removed to Her Majesty's Territories, to the man in charge of the Sayer Chauki or other Tannah or to the frontier Patel specified in the license, who shall thereupon transmit the license or cause the same to be transmitted through his Amildar to the Issuing officer noting on such license that the quantity was found correct according to such license. Where more than the quantity licensed has been removed, the officer receiving the license, if he is not a Magistrate himself, shall at once place the licensee before a Magistrate for trial, communicating the fact to the Issuing officer.

VII. If, before the expiration of the period aforesaid, the wood or bamboos or any other forest produce has not been cut, collected or removed in pursuance of the license, the license shall be deemed to be cancelled, and if the same has been cut or collected; but not removed to its destination within the period allowed for the purpose, the license holder shall, upon returning the license and paying a penalty equivalent to one-fourth of the license fee, be entitled to a permit under Section 34 of the Forest Rules; provided that when the licensee proves to the satisfaction of the officer issuing the pass that non-removal was owing to unavoidable causes, such as continuous heavy rain, floods of rivers, difficulty for carts or any accident while in transit, he shall be entitled to obtain a free permit for removal. All carts laden with forest produce are liable to examination by any Police, Revenue or Forest Officer under the provisions of Section 34 of the Forest Rules.

VIII. The whole of the timber or bamboos or any other forest produce covered by a license shall be removed in one lot and at the same time and shall be accompanied by such license, provided that this rule does not apply to any minor forest produce such as the collection of gums, resin, lac, bees-wax, tamarind and other produce leased out by Government and removed during the period of such lease by the lessees or their servants in the exercise of their rights under such lease; provided also that such lessees shall be bound by the terms of their contract in respect of such minor forest produce under pain of penalties specially provided for or prescribed under Section 40 of the Forest Rules.

To —Deputy Commissioners of Districts, Circular No. 1342-50—32, dated, Bangalore, 2nd September 1889.

An instance has come before the Inspector General of Forests in which an intending purchaser of a timber log from a depôt obtained a letter of advice in September; but failed to pay the amount into the Treasury till the end of December and the Forest Officer had to issue a notice to him as to whether he would pay for the log and which notice elicited no reply. In the meantime another purchaser turned up and bought the log upon payment. The original intending purchaser also paid the amount upon his letter of advice which remained uncanceled. In order to obviate such difficulties or complications, the Inspector General hereby directs that on each and every letter of advice in future the time within which payment should be made, be noted and that no payment be received at the Treasury after the time nor need any notice be taken of such time expired advices by the Issuing Officer.

A copy of this Circular will be forwarded to the Comptroller for needful instructions to the Treasury Department.

To—Deputy Commissioners of Districts, Circular No. 1342-50—32, dated, Bangalore, 2nd September 1889.

An instance has come before the Inspector General of Forests in which an intending purchaser of a timber log from a depôt obtained a letter of advice in September; but failed to pay the amount into the Treasury till the end of December and the Forest Officer had to issue a notice to him as to whether he would pay for the log and which notice elicited no reply. In order to obviate such difficulties or complications, the Inspector General hereby directs that on each and every letter of advice in future the time within which payment should be made, be noted and that no payment be received at the Treasury after the time nor need any notice be taken of such time expired advices by the Issuing Officer.

A copy of this Circular will be forwarded to the Comptroller for needful instructions to the Treasury Department.

To—The Deputy Commissioners, Treasury Department, Circular No. 1731, dated 17th October 1889.

In supersession of this Office Circular No. 14, dated 8th April 1886, I have the honor to state that the original Jama Kharch Account of the Resident's Treasury, Bangalore, should take in the transactions from the 1st to 15th of the month and be despatched from the Treasury so as to reach this Office punctually on the 21st of the month. The Supplemental Account will take in all transactions between the 16th and end of the month and should be despatched so as to reach the Huzur Treasury by the 12th of the month following. If holidays should happen to intervene between any of these dates, the Treasuries concerned should not close office without making adequate arrangements for the preparation and submission of the returns on due dates. The Treasury Officer should see that the dates on which the original and supplemental accounts are due, are strictly observed. It is also requested that the Treasury Officer will insist on the Taluk Treasuries submitting their original and Jama Kharch Accounts so as to reach the District Treasury by the 18th of the month the latest and the supplemental Account by the 5th of the month following, so as to enable you to prepare and submit the respective accounts to the Huzur Treasury by the dates fixed above. If owing to gross negligence the accounts of any Taluk should at any time be delayed, the accounts of the remaining Taluks and of the District Treasury should be despatched in time, the account in arrears being incorporated with the account for the following month.

Punctual observance of the dates fixed is very necessary in order that the Huzur Treasury may have sufficient time to submit the consolidated accounts of the whole of the Province to the Resident's Treasury, Bangalore, by the dates fixed, namely, 25th of the month for the original account and the 15th of the month following for the supplemental account. I have further to state that as ample time has been allowed for the preparation and submission of the accounts in question, delays in their receipt in the Huzur Treasury will be reported to the Government.

II. Letter No. 3922—1192, dated 3rd September 1889, from the Executive Engineer, Bangalore Division, regarding the proposed construction of additional lines for the Barr Sepoys on the Municipal land near the Agrahara tank.

Resolution.—All the members including the Senior Surgeon adjourned to this site and after inspecting the same resolved (Mr. Scaldwell dissenting) to record their decided opinion that the site selected is the most unsuited—

- Firstly, because it is too low and forms part of the Agrahara Tank bed.
- Secondly, because it is too near the Arlepete sewer and the Muhammadan grave yard.
- Thirdly, because it is too close to the populous part of the Town.
- Fourthly, because the extension which is to be substantial and well-built with Mangalore tiles and which would form a handsome block of buildings by itself will be concealed from view by the present lines.
- Fifthly, because if the same is built on the high ground to the west of the present lines the extension will not only beautify the whole place but will be the means of removing the pensioners' huts which at present are the source of a great nuisance and which it is urgently necessary to remove to a distance in the interests of the Barr Force.

Note.—To this last ground of objection Mr. Scaldwell also assents.

III. Application from Mr. A. Gopalacharlu, Srinivasa Mandiram and Charities, soliciting a monthly grant from the Municipal Funds to the Oriental and Mixed Library established by him in the town.

Resolved.—That as a tentative measure a grant of twenty rupees per mensem be sanctioned for one year subject to the conditions of there being a Municipal Commissioner always on the Committee of management, that a monthly statement of expenditure and also of number of visitors be sent to the Municipal Board to be laid before their Meeting and that the Library be open to the public free of charge.

IV. Report from the Sub-Committee, submitting proposals for the disposal of the funds now available by the transfer of the Educational grants from Municipal to Provincial Funds.

Resolved.—That the report of the Sub-Committee be adopted with the following modifications, viz., that Rs. 500 be deducted from the provision made for opening out crowded localities and the same amount be utilised towards meeting the charges of the proposed re-numbering of houses in the Town and that Rs. 1,000 be similarly deducted from the allotment made for additional drains in view to use the said amount for erecting huts for sweepers.

V. Proposal to build at Municipal expense huts for sweepers and houses for overseers in their respective Divisions.

Vide Resolution No. IV.

VI. Proposal to introduce a bye-law to prevent the commission of nuisance by children on the public roads.

Resolution.—The consideration of the subject be deferred till the next Meeting of the Board when a draft Bye-law may be prepared and laid before the Meeting.

II. Letter No. 150, dated 17th instant, from the Honorary Secretary, Friend-in-need Society, requesting that some of the poor belonging to the Town who are now being relieved by the Friend-in-need Society may be taken over to the Town Langarkhana.

Resolved.—That the Secretary be informed that the Society may deal with the paupers not belonging to Civil and Military Station in any way they think proper. If such paupers apply for help to this Municipality, the applications will be decided on their merits and with reference to the means at its disposal.

III. Application from Mr. Muhammad Mahdi Sahib for the grant of a building site in Dobbspete.

11. Resolved that the Board desire that the very early sanction of Government should be sought for the provisional bye-law resolved upon in last preceding para.

12. Mr. A. Ananda Rao brought to notice the expediency of having red-lights at nights to mark roads under repair.

13. The Revd. Mr. Haigh gave notice of his intention to propose at next meeting of the Municipal Board that, with a view to the saving of the time of the Board without in the least curtailing adequate discussion, the Sub-Committee already appointed to draw up bye-laws further empowered to frame suitable rules for the conduct of business at Municipal Meeting.

PROCEEDINGS OF THE GOVERNMENT OF MYSORE.

Read—

Docket No. 205, dated 17th September 1889, from the President, Municipal Board, Mysore.

No. 6083-5—670, DATED BANGALORE, 29TH OCTOBER 1889.

ORDER THEREON.—The Government are not at present prepared to sanction the introduction of tolls in the City of Mysore. The propriety of collecting tolls on carriages entering the Municipal limits, whereon octroi duty is also collected on some articles brought into the City, is questionable, and the President is requested to report whether the octroi duty can be given up altogether if the system of tolls be sanctioned.

2. Before sanctioning the Bye-law proposed regarding lights to carriages, the President will be requested to state whether there have been any carriage accidents of late to render the introduction of the Bye-law absolutely necessary, and if so to what extent. Unless it is absolutely necessary, the Government are unwilling to introduce any change in the system of administration of the Mysore Municipality at present.

3. The proposed appointment of an Overseer, Accountant and Peon and the proposed increase of pay to the Sub-Overseers with a horse allowance of Rs. 10 each will be sanctioned if the Deputy Commissioner can show the source in the current year's Budget of the Mysore Municipality, from which the increased charge can be met. The Government note that the provision under VIII Public Works in the Budget for 1889—90 has been reduced by Government from Rs. 42,159 to Rs. 30,000 for want of funds. The President is therefore requested to send a re-appropriation statement providing for changes now proposed, if the Board consider that they are required whether the toll system is sanctioned or not.

WEATHER SUMMARY FOR APRIL 1889.

Simla, the 19th May 1889.

Hot weather conditions, which are initiated in the month of March, are confirmed and developed during April. The distribution of pressure, which during March is subject to large and sudden fluctuations, sometimes approximating to hot weather conditions and at others reverting suddenly to those characteristic of the cold season, is much more stable and continuous during April. The larger atmospheric storms which in late seasons sometimes disturb the weather of March are almost unknown during April, and any storms which appear are almost invariably of local character, produced by the large contrasts of temperature which prevail between the heated plains on the one hand and the relatively cool mountain and sea-surfaces on the other. Under the influence of the steady increase of temperature, which is characteristic of this month, there ordinarily occurs a considerable decrease of pressure. This decrease varies directly with the changes of temperature,—being least in the extreme south, where the average rise of temperature is about  $5^{\circ}$ , and greatest in Upper and North-Western India, where the average rise of temperature is about  $10^{\circ}$ . The general distribution of pressure is similar in many respects to that obtaining in March, but the high readings, which in the earlier month are shown over the Punjab and Sind, disappear or are very much contracted in the later month. Pressure is high over the West Coast, over Ceylon, over the centre and south of the Bay, and over Tenasserim. From these regions it steadily decreases, and areas of low pressure are shown over the eastern portions of the Central Provinces, over the Gangetic plain, and over the Western desert.

Roughly speaking, there is then an area of deficient pressure over the whole of Northern and Central India and a general indraught of winds; circulating in the ordinary manner, towards this region. Within the low pressure area itself however, instead of the small air motion, which is the ordinary characteristic of such a distribution, there are strong north-westerly and westerly winds. These winds are the hot winds of the Indian plains. They spring up about 9 or 10 in the morning and blow with considerable force till 4 or 5 in the evening or later. The temperature distribution of April is very simple. Temperature is highest over the Deccan and the Central Provinces, whence it decreases in all directions. It is lowest in the north of the Punjab and at the head of the Assam Valley, between which places and the region of greatest heat there is a mean difference of about  $15^{\circ}$ .

The normal rainfall of April is greater than that of March over Bengal (except Behar) and over the Peninsula and Ceylon, but is less in Upper India and over the central parts of the country. The whole of the rainfall, except perhaps that in the extreme south, is mainly due to the occurrence of thunderstorms and nor'westers.

During the month under review the weather has been, as is usually the case, fairly quiet, the only disturbing features being local thunderstorms, and these have on the whole been less intense than normally, and much less than those which occurred during April 1888. The variations of pressure from the average have in general been slight. They comprise a slight deficiency over Burma, Bengal, Malabar, Sind, and the East of the Peninsula, and an excess elsewhere. There have been no travelling depressions of any importance during the past month, though over Sind and the Punjab tendencies favouring the formation of depressions appear to have existed, while the excessive heat which prevailed over parts of Bengal, the North-Western and Central Provinces during a part of the month resulted in low pressures over those regions.

Temperature.—The temperature changes during the month have been large, and the contrasts between different parts of the Indian region considerable. During the first few days there was a considerable excess over North-Western India and a considerable deficiency over Bengal, but a fall commenced in the extreme north-west on the 5th, and the high temperature area began an easterly movement, which eventually carried it to Bengal, and finally into Assam and Burma. On the 9th a fresh wave of high temperature was shown over the Western Punjab, and this wave in its turn marched across Northern India, though less distinctly than the former. On the 14th a third wave of high temperature appeared in the Indus Valley. By the 15th it had spread out eastward and embraced the whole of the Punjab, Western Rajputana, Sind and Guzerat, and from this date it continued to extend its limits till by the 20th it had spread over practically the whole of India. On the 21st the rear trough of the wave showed itself in the shape of deficient temperatures in the Indus Valley. The movement then became more rapid. The apex of the wave passed quickly eastward across Bengal to Burma; the trough passed quickly across Rajputana, &c., to the Central Provinces, and was followed by another wave of heat in the Punjab. On the 25th the mean temperature was  $8.7^{\circ}$  above the normal at Dera Ismail Khan,  $11.6^{\circ}$  below the normal at Jubbulpore, and  $6^{\circ}$  above the normal at Sibsagar, Thyetmyo, and Tounghoo. These conditions lasted in a modified degree till the 29th, when the trough over the central parts of the country largely filled up and high temperatures were experienced everywhere. The hottest part of India absolutely was the Berars and the Deccan and, relatively to the average, Eastern and Lower Bengal.

Rain.—Except in Assam and Cachar, the normal average rainfall of April is a very small quantity. Yet over nearly the whole of Northern India, and also in the Deccan and Lower Bengal, even this small average was not reached. In the Peninsula and the central parts of the country the average was exceeded, and in Ceylon there was a considerable excess, owing largely to the exceptionally heavy fall which occurred in the extreme south on the 24th.

The following table shows the actual average rainfall and the normal rainfall of the month of the twenty-one districts into which the country is divided, so far as it is indicated by the telegraphic reports of a few stations in each district:—

WEATHER SUMMARY FOR MAY 1889.

Simla, the 26th June 1889.

General Weather conditions of the month.—The chief feature of the month is the increase of temperature which proceeds more rapidly in Upper than in Central India. The hottest area during the early part of the month usually includes the Central Provinces, Central India, and the eastern districts of the North-Western Provinces. It is usually transferred to Rajputana and Sind in the third or fourth week of the month. The continued high temperature in Central and Upper India usually diminishes pressure rapidly during the month in those areas and establishes the baric gradients necessary for the extension of the south-east trades winds across the equator and their continuance northwards as the south-west monsoon winds into India.

Usually one or two feeble advances of these humid winds occur during May which give moderate rain to Ceylon, Malabar, and to Tenasserim. The great advance however does not usually take place until the end of May or the beginning of June. This forms what is known as the setting in of the south-west monsoon. Over the whole of Central and Northern India the weather is generally very hot and dry, but hot weather storms occasionally occur and sometimes give very heavy showers, more especially in Bengal and Assam, and in and near the hills in Behar and the North-West Provinces. In Bengal and Assam the amount of rain received from the local thunderstorms is sometimes very considerable, and the showery weather of May occasionally merges at the end of the month almost imperceptibly into the rain of the south-west monsoon.

Temperature.—The past month has been characterized by higher average temperature than usual in all districts except the Punjab and Assam.

The following give the mean temperature data for the various Provinces :

This table shows that the excess of temperature was greatest for Burmah and Bengal.

Temperature was considerably above the average at the commencement of the month. The 3rd and 4th were very hot days in Bengal and Burmah, and at many stations the maximum day temperature was from 8° to 12° above the normal.

Dry hot weather with excessive temperature continued steadily until the 20th. The 10th and 11th were very hot days in North-East India. The mean maximum temperature averaged 7° above the normal in Bengal and the North-West Provinces, 5° in Burmah, and 4° in the Central Provinces. The hottest area at this time was the eastern districts of the Central Provinces and the adjacent districts of Bengal. The hottest area was transferred to the eastern districts of the North-West Provinces and Central India on the 18th and 19th, on which days very high temperatures were recorded at Allahabad and other stations in these areas. A very rapid reduction of temperature took place on the 22nd in consequence of showers over the greater part of Northern and Central India. In many cases the day temperature was reduced from 20° to 30°. Thus on the 23rd the maximum temperature was 18° below the normal at Sutna, 15° below it at Patna, and 14° at Allahabad. On the 25th it was 22° below it at Ludhiana, 19° at Sialkote, and 15° at Agra. This very cool period lasted until the 26th, during which occasional showers continued to be received. With the cessation of rain the temperature began to rise steadily, and at the end of the month was again considerably above the normal. The excess averaged 7° in the Central Provinces; 5° in Bengal, Central India, Sind, Guzerat, and Rajputana; and 4° in the North-West Provinces and the Punjab. During this period of increasing temperature the area of highest temperature was transferred to Sind.

The following gives the highest temperatures registered during the month at selected stations in Northern India and the highest temperature registered during the same month in the previous 14 years for comparison:

Pressure.—One of the most important effects of the prolonged heat of May is to intensify previously existing barometric or pressure anomalies and to develop new ones. The mean pressure of the month for the whole of India was ·031" above the normal.

The following gives the pressure anomalies or the variations of the mean pressure in each district relative to the general condition of excessive pressure as stated above :

Province.	Mean Pressure Variations.
	May 1st to 15th.	May 16th to 31st	May.

The chief features as indicated by the above are :

- Slightly defective pressure in the south and west of the Peninsula.
- Increased pressure in Upper India, more especially in Rajputana and the Punjab and the adjacent districts of the North-West Provinces. This feature was very persistent throughout the month and was unaffected by the changes of weather during the month. It will hence probably modify to a considerable extent the northward extension of the south-west monsoon current in June.
- Slightly increased pressure, small in amount, and hence probably of little importance, in Central India and the Central Provinces.
- Very deficient pressure in Behar, Bengal, Assam, and Burmah. This deficiency was to a large extent produced by the excessive temperature which prevailed in these areas during a large part of the month. This feature was however not so persistent as the excessive pressure in Upper India. The deficiency was large in the first half of May in Bengal, Assam, and Behar, and during the second half of May in Burmah. It will hence probably influence the extension of the south-west monsoon current in June (in the manner stated in the forecast already published), but it is difficult to estimate to what extent.

The only other feature of importance in the pressure conditions of the month are the local depressions. These were in all cases small and in no case gave rise to stormy winds over large areas. The following gives a brief statement of these depressions :

- Depression in Central Burmah on the 8th and 9th. It caused moderate rain in South and Central Burmah, and filled up on the 10th.
- Depression in Behar on the 14th which accompanied a strong inrush of south-west winds across the Bengal Coast and gave moderate to heavy thundershowers over the greater part of Bengal on that day. It filled up on the morning of the 15th.
- Depression in Sind on the 17th, 18th and 19th. This was apparently due to hot weather conditions, and was shortly afterwards followed by the transfer of the area of minimum pressure to Sind and Upper India.
- Small depression off the Coromandel Coast on the 21st and 22nd. It gave some light showers on that Coast, and filled up on the 22nd.
- Depression of May 22nd to 26th. On the 22nd a small depression lay over the Central Provinces and another over the north of the Bay. The former disappeared on the 23rd, and the depression in the Bay developed slightly and moved westwards towards the coast districts and eastern districts of the Central Provinces. It was throughout a large but a very shallow depression. It determined more or less general rain over a large portion of Central and Northern India, which occurred chiefly as thundershowers in Bengal, the North-West Provinces, Rajputana, Central India, and the Central Provinces. The depression filled up on the 26th and 27th.

A depression began to form off the South Malabar Coast on the 29th. It was at first apparently of small importance, but in the first week of June it advanced northwards along the Bombay Coast and developed into a cyclonic storm. Its history will be given in next month's report.

Storms.—The previous paragraph has shown that there was no large cyclonic storm during the month. Duststorms and thunderstorms were unusually numerous in Northern India, and were in some cases very violent. The following were reported during the month: Severe duststorms at Gya and Nowgoing on the 4th; hailstorm at Belgaum on the 7th; violent duststorm at Jacobabad on the 7th; thunderstorm at Negapatam on the 12th, during which 4 inches of rain fell; violent duststorms at Karwar on the 14th; very severe thunderstorm with hail at Kishnagar on the 19th; duststorm at Sirsa on the 28th; violent duststorm with rain at Indore on the 21st; violent duststorm with hail and rain at Mount Abu on the 22nd; severe duststorm at Sirsa on the 22nd; a very heavy thunderstorm preceded by winds of almost hurricane force lasting for half an hour at Neemuch on the 22nd; and a severe nor'-wester at False Point on the 29th when the wind velocity averaged 32 miles per hour for a short period.

Rainfall.—The rainfall of the month has been of a somewhat unusual character. Rain fell daily in Assam from the 1st to the 13th; occasional showers were also received during this period in East Bengal and Burmah (chiefly on the 8th and 9th). The Punjab obtained local showers on the 10th and 13th, but the amounts were small.

Rain fell in large amounts in Assam from the 14th to the 18th, and nearly the whole of Bengal received moderate to heavy rain from thundershowers during the same period. Berhampore in Bengal obtained  $4\frac{1}{4}$  inches during a thunderstorm on the evening of the 15th. Two feeble advances of moist winds into the south of the Peninsula occurred during this period. The first took place on the 14th and 15th, and the second on the 17th and 18th. As usual the largest rainfall amounts were received in Ceylon and on the Malabar Coast. A brief interval of dry hot weather preceded a period of showery weather extending from the 21st to the 26th over a large part of the country including Burmah, Bengal, the North-West Provinces, Central Provinces, Central India, and Rajputana. Numerous thundershowers occurred during this period over the greater part of Northern and Central India, the chief effect of which was to cool the air very considerably and give a welcome break in the intensely hot weather which prevailed during the greater part of the month.

Assam and Burmah received moderate rain on the 29th, 30th and 31st. Heavy rain fell on the 29th in South-West Ceylon, and on the 30th and 31st on the South Malabar Coast. Colombo received  $3\frac{1}{2}$  inches and Mangalore  $2\frac{1}{4}$  inches on the 29th; Cochin 4 inches and Mangalore  $2\frac{1}{2}$  inches on the 30th, and Cochin  $3\frac{1}{4}$  inches on the 31st. This burst of rain was the commencement of that advance of south-west winds and general rain along the West Coast which is usually considered as the setting in of the south-west monsoon.

The month was drier than usual over the greater part of India. This was more especially the case in Lower Burmah and Bengal, in which moderately heavy rain is usually received. The actual rainfall in Lower Burmah was only 3.93 inches, the normal being 8.99 inches. The actual average rainfall of Bengal was 3.3 inches and the normal 6 inches. Rajputana, Central India, Guzerat, and the northern districts of the Central Provinces received larger amounts than usual in May due to the unusual fall in the fourth week of the month. The amounts were however not large and the rainfall hence unimportant. The rainfall of the month was in moderate excess in Ceylon and considerably above the average in Assam which received an average of 19.4 inches or 4.8 inches above the normal. The variations in other districts were small and of no great importance.

The following table gives complete data and shows the actual average rainfall and the normal rainfall of the month of the twenty-one districts into which the country is divided, so far as it is indicated by the telegraphic reports of a few stations in each district:—

Proceedings of the Government of Mysore.

ORDEE No. 4200-11—166, DATED BANGALORE, 23RD AUGUST 1889.

The Resolution of the Government of India No. 1945, dated the 4th December 1884 and Notification No. 1946 of the same date will be re-published in the Mysore Gazette, Part IV, "Official Papers."

2. The Government of His Highness the Maharaja resolve to issue the following—

NOTIFICATION No. 113.

"In exercise of the powers conferred by Section 8 of the Indian Stamp Act 1879, His Highness the Maharaja is pleased to remit the stamp duty payable under that Act on Debenture bonds issued by a Joint Stock Company under the terms of a Mortgage Deed, making over in whole or in part, the property of the Company to trustees for the benefit of the Debenture holders and on interest coupons attached to the said Debentures."

3. The above Notification cancels the adjudication made by the Deputy Commissioner of Bangalore and communicated to Mr. H. Hart, Agent of Messrs. Binny and Co., Bangalore Cotton, Woollen and Silk Mills Company in letter No. 588 R. dated 18th July 1889.

R. VIJAYINDRA RAO,
Chief Secretary.

No. 1945.

RESOLUTION—By the Government of India, Department of Finance and Commerce.
Read—

Letter from the Government of Bombay, No. 2518 of 22nd March 1884, forwarding a letter from Mr. S. A. Kittredge regarding the stamp duties and registration fees payable on debentures issued by Joint Stock Companies, and making certain recommendations thereon.

OBSERVATIONS.—It appears that Joint Stock Companies are now, in some cases, deterred by the expense involved under the provisions of the Stamp and Registration Acts from raising money by the issue of debentures under a deed of mortgage giving to the holders of the debentures a lien on the property of the Company. For the purpose of raising money in this way the Company would ordinarily—

- (1) execute a mortgage deed making over their property to trustees for the benefit of the debenture holders,
- (2) issue debentures under the terms of the trust deed.

Under the Indian Stamp Act, 1879, the mortgage or trust deed and each of the debentures would be liable separately to stamp duty. The mortgage or trust deed would be an instrument of which registration would be compulsory, and on which a registration fee would be payable. The debentures, containing a reference to real property as security, might also be held to require registration, and they would, as a precautionary measure, ordinarily be registered. Considerable expense is therefore involved in the issue of debentures of the kind described.

RESOLUTION.—With a view to reduce this expense, and to encourage investment by way of loan on the security of the property of Joint Stock Companies, the Governor General in Council has determined to exempt debentures of the kind above described and interest coupons attached thereto from stamp duty, the mortgage or trust deed remaining liable to stamp duty, and has issued a separate Notification for this purpose.

In regard to registration, His Excellency the Governor General in Council is of opinion that it is expedient that the mortgage or trust deed should continue subject to compulsory registration and to the usual registration fee. Regarding the registration of the debentures separate orders will be issued hereafter.

ORDERED, that a copy of this Resolution be forwarded to the Government of Bombay with reference to the letter read in the preamble, and to all other Local Governments and Administrations for information and guidance.

ORDERED also, that this Resolution be published in the Gazette of India for general information.

No. 1946.—In exercise of the powers conferred on him by Section 8 of the Indian Stamp Act, 1879, His Excellency the Governor General in Council is pleased to remit the stamp duty payable under that Act on debenture bonds issued by a Joint Stock Company under the terms of a mortgage deed, making over in whole or in part the property of the Company to trustees for the benefit of the debenture-holders, and on interest coupons attached to the said debentures.

WEATHER SUMMARY FOR JULY 1889.

The 26th August 1889.

General Weather conditions of the month.—The south-west monsoon current is usually fully established before the end of the month of June, and generally prevails with great steadiness during the whole of July. It is hence a month of frequent, and in some districts of almost constant, rainfall and of comparative uniformity of temperature and great humidity over the greater part of the country. The only area in which the rainfall is small in amount and hot weather conditions continue to prevail are Sind, North-West Rajputana, and the West Punjab.

The distribution of rainfall during the month depends largely upon the relative strengths of the two branches of the monsoon current. The Bombay branch advances usually in an easterly direction across the Peninsula, and in a north-easterly direction across Central India and Rajputana towards the Punjab. The Bay of Bengal branch of the current, which is at the head of the Bay of less volume and extent than the Bombay branch when it enters India, is deflected westwards up the Gangetic Valley and is strongest near the hills. Between the two areas in which these currents exclusively prevail is a long trough-like belt of country which forms a kind of debatable ground in which there is much interaction between the currents. This is one of the most conspicuous features of the meteorology of the month. In this belt pressure is somewhat lower than it is either to north or south, so that it forms a trough of low pressure which usually stretches from Upper Sind to Chutia Nagpur or Orissa. In it winds are, as might be expected, very variable, and the small cyclonic storms of the month which form in the Bay almost invariably advance almost this trough. The position of the trough will evidently depend upon the relative strengths of the two branches of the monsoon current. When the Bombay current is strong and the Bengal current weak (as has been the case during the past month), it will evidently be (as it were) thrust further north and occupy a position much nearer the hills than usual. The average position of the trough of low pressure is hence important as an indicator of the relative strengths of the two branches of the monsoon current.

Another very important feature of the meteorology of the month is the small cyclonic storms which form either in the Bay of Bengal or Bengal at brief intervals during the month. They usually advance in a west-north-west or west direction along the trough of low pressure. As they draw away the aqueous vapour from other districts and discharge it as rain over the districts they traverse, they tend to make the rainfall distribution of the month more irregular than it would otherwise be in Northern India. On the other hand, the general indraught causes a strong advance of humid winds for some days across the Bengal Coast. Hence they are always followed by more or less general rain over a large part of Northern India.

Barometric depressions and cyclonic storms of the month.—These were on the whole feebler and less frequent than is usual in July. There were in all three important depressions—the first land-formed, and the remaining two generated near the head of the Bay.

(1) Land-formed storm of the 1st to 6th July.—This was formed in Central Bengal on the evening of the 1st, and covered the Sonthal Pergunnahs and neighbouring districts on the morning of the 2nd. It marched westwards across Chutia Nagpur on the 3rd, the northern districts of the Central Provinces on the 4th, and through South Rajputana and Central India on the 5th, and filled up during the day. It gave a moderately heavy burst of rain to the districts through which it passed. For example, Hazaribagh received 3.74 inches on the 3rd and Jubbulpore 7.45 inches on the 4th.

(2) Depression and cyclonic storm of 13th to 22nd July.—A small depression began to form in the north-west angle of the Bay on the 12th. It remained almost unchanged in position and without developing further until the 17th. The barometer began to rise on the evening of the 17th, and the depression appeared to be filling up and moving westward on the 18th, on which day a very shallow depression extended from the Orissa Coast across the Central Provinces to Jubbulpore and Saugor. On the evening of the 18th the barometer fell rather rapidly in the north-west angle of the Bay, and a small but deepish depression lay between False Point and Saugor Island on the morning of the 19th. The storm centre crossed the coast early on the morning of the 20th between Saugor Island and Balasore, and passed rapidly across Chutia Nagpur during the day. The depression covered South Behar and the eastern districts of the North-Western Provinces on the 21st. It advanced very slowly to the north-west during the day, and filled up on the 22nd in the eastern districts of the North-Western Provinces. This storm gave a heavy burst of rain to Bengal, Chutia Nagpur, Behar, and the eastern districts of the North-Western Provinces. 9.55 inches were registered at Motihari on the 26th for the preceding twenty-four hours, and 9 inches at Pupri in the Muzaffarpur district on the 25th.

Depression of the 27th to the 30th July.—This was a very shallow depression, which apparently formed at the head of the Bay on the 26th and drifted slowly across Chutia Nagpur and the north-eastern districts of the Central Provinces on the 28th and 29th. On the morning of the 30th it was in the eastern districts of the North-Western Provinces, and was then a diffused disturbance of slight importance. It filled up during the next twenty-four hours. This storm gave a moderate burst of rain to Orissa, Chutia Nagpur, and South Behar, and was immediately followed by very heavy rain in North Bengal on the 29th and 30th.

Pressure.—The chief barometric movements of the month occurred in connection with the storms described above. The following table gives the chief oscillations of the range of pressure or barometric differences between Southern and Upper India during the month, which are related to fluctuations in the general strength of the monsoon current blowing into India at this time :

Date.	Highest Pressure in Southern India or Ceylon.	Lowest Pressure in Upper India.	Range of Pres- sure or Total Gradient over India.
2nd .. .. .	29·85	29·40	·45
4th .. .. .	29·84	29·55	·29
7th .. .. .	29·82	29·36	·46
12th .. .. .	29·83	29·54	·29
19th .. .. .	29·81	29·28	·53
22nd .. .. .	29·81	29·43	·38
24th .. .. .	29·83	29·24	·59
29th .. .. .	29·80	29·50	·30

These figures show that the variations in the total gradient are almost entirely due to the oscillatory pressure changes in Upper India.

The mean pressure of the month for the whole of India was almost identical with the normal, differing only by +·004".

The following table gives the barometric anomalies or local pressure variations in different parts of the country and those of the month of June for comparison :

Provinces.	Barometric Anomaly.
	Month of June 1889.	Month of July 1889.
Burmah .. .. .	+·011	+·004
Bengal .. .. .	+·008	+·017
Assam .. .. .	+·019	+·019

Central India .. .. .	—·001	+·012
Central Provinces .. .. .	—·004	+·005
Bombay .. .. .	—·001	—·025
Madras .. .. .	—·002	—·026

This table shows that the same general relation held in July between the anomalies in Northern and Southern India as in the preceding month. The most important change is the large increase in the negative anomalies of Bombay and Madras, directly related to the heavy rain in the Carnatic.

Temperature.—The temperature conditions were, as usual in July, mainly determined by the distribution of rainfall. The hottest parts of India were Upper Sind and the West Punjab and the southern districts of Madras, including Madura, Trichinopoly., and Tinnevely. The fourth week of the month was the hottest in both these areas. The following gives the highest temperatures recorded during the month at stations in these areas :

Jacobabad .. .. .	.. 116·1° on the 24th.
Multan .. .. .	.. 112·3° " 6th.
	.. 112·5° " 16th.

The variation of the mean temperature from the normal from week to week and for the whole month is shown for different districts in the different divisions :

Province.	Difference of Mean Temperature from Normal for Week ending July--				Difference of Mean Temperature from the Normal for the Month.
	8th.	15th.	22nd.	29th.
Burmah .. .. .	+ 1.2	+ 2.9	+ 1.6	+ 0.7	+ 1.6

North-Western Provinces .. .. .	— 0.8	— 0.2	+ 1.8	+ 0.3	+ 0.4
Punjab .. .. .	— 0.5	— 3.6	+ 0.7	+ 3.1	— 0.1

Sind and Rajputana .. .. .	— 1.1	+ 1.7	+ 3.4	+ 1.9	+ 1.6
Madras .. .. .	+ 0.1	— 0.4	— 0.6	— 0.1	— 0.2

This table shows that the mean temperature of the month was considerably above the average in the Central Provinces and Berar (1.9°), Sind, Rajputana, and Burma (1.6°), in which districts the rainfall was below the normal. The variations in other districts were small.

Rain.—The month has been characterised by a smaller number of storms than usual and by the prevalence of a steady and strong monsoon, more especially on the West Coast. Hence the rainfall of the past month was more uniformly distributed than usual. During the first week of the month the rainfall was scattered in North-Western India and Madras, but was general in all other districts, and occurred almost daily in all districts. In the second week rain fell very steadily in Western and Central India due to the Bombay current. It also fell generally in Northern India until the 11th, when it was confined to Bengal and the North-Western Provinces. On the 14th it ceased almost entirely in Northern India and a partial break followed until the 20th, when a storm which had formed in the north-west angle of the Bay crossed the Coast and carried heavy general rain with it over Northern India.

During the last week of the month heavy rain fell over the whole of Northern India, except the Punjab. It was especially heavy in Bengal. On the other hand, the Bombay current fell off in strength and the rainfall diminished greatly in amount in Rajputana, Central India, the Central Provinces, as well as Western India and the Deccan. The rainfall of this period was unusually heavy in the hill districts, and more especially at Mussoorie and Naini Tal.

In consequence of the favorable conditions, the rainfall of the month was above the average over the greater part of India. The excess was generally moderate in amount. It was above the average over the whole of Northern India, including the Punjab, North-Western Provinces, Behar, North Bengal, Assam, and Orissa. The only area in which the excess was large was North Bengal, and this was chiefly due to the heavy rainfall of the fourth week of the month. There was a moderate deficiency in Lower Bengal, averaging 25 per cent of the normal.

The Western Coast districts and the Deccan, and Carnatic have received normal or abundant rainfall. Mysore, Bellary, and the Carnatic obtained more than double the normal amount. There was a moderate excess in the Konkan and a large excess of nearly 30 per cent in Guzerat.

The rainfall of the month was in moderate deficiency in Sind, Cutch, Berar, and Khandeish, and largely in defect in the southern districts of the Central Provinces and in Rajputana and Central India. In these areas the deficiency ranged from 30 to 40 per cent. It was also about 20 per cent below the average in Lower Burmah.

Some heavy rainfalls were received during the storms described above, but as a rule excessive rainfalls have been quite the exception and have occurred much less frequently than is usual in July. In this respect the monsoon has had the same character as in the preceding month.

Strength of the monsoon currents.—So far as this can be judged by the strength of the winds at the coast stations, it would appear that both currents were above their normal strength. This is shown for the Bengal current by the following data :

Branch of Current.	Coast Stations.	Actual Average	Normal	Variation in	Variations expressed as a percentage.
		Daily Velocity, July 1889.	Daily Velocity, July.	Wind Velocity, July 1889, from Normal.
Bay of Bengal		Miles per day.	Miles per day.	Miles per day.
	Akyab ..	120	105	+ 15	14 per cent excess.
	Chittagong ..	132	162	— 30	19 per cent defect.
	Saugor Island .	408	406	+ 2	5 per cent excess.

The following table gives complete data, and shows the actual average rainfall and the normal rainfall of the month of the twenty-one districts into which the country is divided, so far as it is indicated by the telegraphic reports of a few stations in each district :

Home Department Resolution No.  $12\frac{31}{17.42}$  dated the 11th July 1885.

RESOLUTION.

In the Resolution read in the preamble it has been laid down that no officer of Government shall ask or accept pecuniary aid or subscriptions from Native Chiefs or officials of Native States in pursuance of public objects, except with the previous sanction of the Local Government to which he may be subordinate.

An instance has recently come to the notice of the Government of India in which a public servant accepted a donation from a Native Chief towards a religious object in which he was specially interested. In the Resolution of 11th July 1885, applications for contributions to private or semi-public objects are not expressly condemned but the objections upon which those orders are based apply with even greater force to such donations. The Governor General in Council is therefore pleased to extend the orders contained in Resolution No.  $12\frac{31}{17.42}$  (Public), dated 11th July 1885, to applications for acceptance of assistance towards private or semi-public objects.

Receipts.—It will thus be seen that our Revenue has, on the whole, been about  $2\frac{1}{2}$  lakhs better than in the year previous. The improvement was chiefly under Excise, Forests, Stamps, Royalty on Gold-Mines and interest on investments.

The Excise Revenue shows an increase of a little more than one lakh. Of this Rs. 57,370 was under Arrack. The duty on this article has remained the same in both years and the cost to the consumer has been so high as Rs. 5 per gallon 20° Under-proof. The consumption has notwithstanding increased, and on comparing the quantities on which duty was actually levied each year since 1885—86, we find a confirmation of the opinion I advanced last year that high wages and large importations of labor have been among the principal causes of the increased consumption. In Chitaldroog, where the Railway works were in active progress, the increase has been enormous. In Kolar also, there has been a very large increase owing to the progress of the gold mining industry and large Public Works. The increase in Tumkur was chiefly due to Railway works. In Mysore, the large Public Works in course of execution account for a considerable increase, while that in Hassan and Kadur must be attributed in a great measure to the suppression of illicit distillation in the Malnad and chiefly among the coffee coolies. In Bangalore and Shimoga, the increase has been very inconsiderable.

We thus find that the increase due to suppression of illicit distillation is restricted to remote and secluded localities. A larger rate of increase is observed in the vicinity of the Railway, the Gold-Mines of Kolar and our own large Public Works, where high wages of labor have prevailed; but a further and general increase common to the whole Province can only be attributed to the years of good rain-fall and plentiful harvests we have lately had. We may thus safely conclude that the favorable character of the seasons, the cheap price of food grains and the high wages of labor have all combined to increase the consumption of arrack. In the present year, we have again raised the retail price per gallon, 20° Under-proof, from Rs. 5 to Rs. 5—5—0 by means of a reduction of the dram measure from  $\frac{1}{48}$ th to  $\frac{1}{51}$ st part of an Imperial gallon. And this reduction has also the effect of at once diminishing the quantity usually taken at a time by an individual.

The last year was the second year of the existing toddy contract under which the annual revenue from this source is fixed at Rs. 7,32,000, and any small variations in the revenue realized in each year are due to some of the instalments not being fully collected before the 31st March.

Under Forests, sandalwood realized about six lakhs, being a decrease of nearly  $\frac{3}{4}$  lakh as compared with 1887—88, due to a less favorable market for the article in Bombay. But, on the other hand, our income from timber and miscellaneous products was about five lakhs as against only three in 1887—88. On the whole, therefore, there was an increase of nearly  $1\frac{1}{4}$  lakh.

The Gold industry in the Kolar District shows considerable progress. The precious metal extracted by the various Companies, which weighed 15,403 oz. in 1887 rose to 35,073 oz. in 1888, the Mysore Company alone having produced 13,087 and 19,090 oz. in the two years. The royalty levied during the past year amounted to over one lakh.

Investments of the surplus revenue and deposits in the Madras Bank account for an increase of Rs. 86,000.

The most important decrease has been under Land Revenue. It was entirely due to the process now going on, year after year, of a gradual reduction of the previous year's arrears. In the beginning of the past three years, the arrears have successively been Rs. 25,04,777, Rs. 18,05,879 and Rs. 13,99,079, and in the beginning of the current year, they were Rs. 12,98,279.

As compared with 1887—88, there was collected during the last year, less arrears to the extent of .. .. .	Rs. 3,47,446

though more of the current year's demand was collected to the extent of .. .. .	„ 2,29,904

Thus there was a net decrease of .. .. .	„ 1,17,542
--	------------

The annual demand and not the actual collection gives a correct idea of the present condition of the Land Revenue. I am happy to say that the demand for 1888—89, namely, Rs. 82,84,998, was the highest we have ever had. Before the Rendition, the largest Land Revenue demand was 76 lakhs in 1867—68; in 1875—76 it had fallen to 73 $\frac{3}{4}$  lakhs, in the next year it fell to 64 $\frac{1}{2}$  lakhs owing to the famine of that year, and in 1880—81, the year preceding the Rendition, it was about 69 $\frac{1}{2}$  lakhs. During the next 4 years, there was some improvement, but during the last four, the increase has been very marked as you will see by comparing the following figures for 1884—85 and the following years:—

			Rs.
1884—85	..	..	74,05,000
1885—86	..	..	77,86,000
1886—87	..	..	81,31,000
1887—88	..	..	81,41,000
1888—89	..	..	82,85,000

The part of the present increased revenue, due to the introduction of the Survey Settlement, is comparatively insignificant, while the progressive increase due to extension of cultivation will be seen by comparing the actual occupied area during the past 4 years. The occupied area of the past four years has been as follows :—

	Acres.
In 1885—86	..	..	..	4,825,000
In 1886—87	..	..	..	5,100,000
In 1887—88	..	..	..	5,245,000
In 1888—89	..	..	..	5,384,000

This shows the steady extension of cultivation, under the influence of the highly propitious seasons we have been blessed with, during the past three years. And I am happy to be able to congratulate the Province upon the excellent agricultural prospects of the current year.

Expenditure.—The total expenditure of the year amounted to Rs. 1,17,40,000 being Rs. 3,42,000 more than in the previous year.

The principal increase was under “Public Works” of about Rs. 4,02,000 owing to many new works of importance which I shall refer to hereafter.

Under “Forests,” there was an increase of Rs. 59,000, out of which Rs. 44,000 was on account of Elephant Khaddas and the remainder under Conservancy and Establishment. On new Plantations the expenditure was Rs. 86,000 as compared with Rs. 68,000 in 1887—88.

Under “Medical,” there was an increase of Rs. 25,000 owing to new Dispensaries and increments of pay to Assistant Surgeons.

Railway Earnings and Interest.—The three-quarters of net earnings of the State Railway received from the Southern Mahratta Railway Company amounted to Rs. 69,629 as against Rs. 2,78,250 in 1887—88. This great falling-off was, it is believed, due to heavy charges against the Revenue on account of repairs considered necessary to the open line. On the other hand, the State had to pay Rs. 3,65,039 as guaranteed interest upon the expended portion of the Railway capital raised in England.

Surplus.—Including Railway earnings received and guaranteed interest paid, the total receipts amounted to Rs. 1,32,89,717 and the total expenditure, to Rs. 1,21,05,762; there was thus a surplus of Rs. 11,83,955 on the year's transactions and this, added to the opening balance on 1st April 1888, gave a total Revenue surplus of Rs. 77,35,835 at the close of the last year. Of this amount, about 50 lakhs were in Government of India Pro-notes; about 10 lakhs are being similarly invested in the current year, and the remainder is a portion of the Cash Balance required for the purposes of the administration throughout the year.

Budget Estimates.—The Budget Estimates of Receipts for the current year, exclusive of the probable net earnings of the State Railway, amount to Rs. 1,27,26,000. These estimates are Rs. 4,94,000 less than the revenue realized in the previous year. Under “Land Revenue,” the estimate is only 82 lakhs, though with the favorable season we are now having, there is every reason to anticipate that the collections may amount to about 84 lakhs. Small decreases appear under “Excise,” “Forest” and other heads of Revenue, the estimates being based upon the average receipts of previous years.

The estimated expenditure of the current year, (exclusive of interest on the English Railway Loan) amounts, according to the Revised Budget, to Rs. 1,21,45,000 as compared with an actual of Rs. 1,17,40,723 in 1888—89. The principal heads under which an increase is provided for are the following :—

Rs.

1,05,000.—Under Land Revenue, chiefly on account of the Remuneration of Village Servants and Malnad Inams.

87,000.—Under “Forests,” owing to an improved conservancy and the strengthening of Establishment rendered necessary by the extension of operations.

30,000.—Under “Excise Establishment,” owing to the appointment of an Excise Commissioner and increase in the subordinate staff, the additional cost being fully met by the increase expected from the reduction of the dram measure already referred to.

1,12,000.—Under “Education”. Of this amount, Rs. 69,000 is on account of the re-transfer of Taluk Vernacular schools from Local to Provincial Funds. These charges had been transferred from Provincial to Local Funds during the financial pressure of 1879—80 but their re-transfer has been deemed necessary in order to give effect to the original intention of devoting 24 per cent of the Local Cess, exclusively to primary vernacular education in hobli and village schools for the benefit of the rural population. * Rs. 22,000 is the increase on account of grants-in-aid due to new schools for both boys and girls, to the enlargement of existing schools and to the re-transfer of certain charges which the Bangalore Municipality has been paying for the last few years.

Railway Estimates.—According to the revised Budget, the estimate of three-quarters of net Railway earnings due to the State is Rs. 3,00,000 based upon a careful forecast. The interest payable on account of Railway Capital raised in England has been budgetted for at Rs. 6,53,100, being interest on £ 990,700—10—8, the capital outlay up to date at an exchange rate of 1s. 4d. Thus the net payment required during the year on account of the Railway is about 3½ lakhs.

Future financial arrangements.—Having thus explained the present condition of both the revenue and expenditure of the State, I now turn to the immediate future. I beg to refer you to the statements of net income and expenditure with which you have been furnished. You will see from them that, excluding from consideration Railway earnings and interest on Railway Capital, the annual surplus during the next five years may safely be estimated at 15 lakhs. To this amount has to be added ¾ths of net Railway earnings which are estimated at 3 lakhs in the current year, rising by annual increments of ¼ lakh to 4½ lakhs in seven years.

Against this net total income, there would be charges on account of interest on, and redemption of, Railway loans. I shall now explain the arrangements made for meeting these charges. The Famine debt of 80 lakhs due to the British Government has now been fully liquidated and the last payment on account of it (namely, Rs. 1,99,404) was made on 31st December 1888. A fund has been formed for the redemption of the Local Railway Loan of 20 lakhs and the first payment into it of Rs. 2,00,596 was also made in December last. In the current and next three years 4 lakhs per annum, and in 1893—94 Rs. 2,71,905, will be paid into this Fund so as, with interest, to accumulate 20 lakhs for the repayment of the local Loan in the year 1902.

From 1894—95 payments will be made towards another Fund for the redemption of the English Railway Loan of £ 1,200,000. The annual payment required is £ 14,630 per annum (equivalent to Rs. 2,19,450 at 1s. 4d.) for 42 years, the debt being repayable in the year 1936. In addition to these payments, interest on the above mentioned loans has to be paid, namely one lakh on the local Loan and £ 48,000 (equivalent to Rs. 7,20,000) on the English Loan. Over and above these payments on account of liabilities already incurred, a provision of 12 lakhs per annum would be required during the next five years for important Irrigation Works of Famine-protection and for proposed new Railways. According to a careful forecast, of which a translation is now before you, the Irrigation works proposed would involve an average annual addition of about 5¼ lakhs to the present Public Works grant of 20 lakhs, while the total length of about 250 miles of proposed new Railways (to be described hereafter) would require a capital of 120 lakhs and involve an annual payment of about 6¼ lakhs, if the capital debt is to be redeemed simultaneously with the present English debt of £ 1,200,000. As we are at present unable to make so large a provision as 12 lakhs per annum, it may be found necessary to modify the Public Works Department forecast and at the same time to invest on new Railways a portion of the accumulated savings of the past few years. These are matters which

It must not however be forgotten that there are several other demands more or less pressing upon the resources of the State, such as the improvement of the Shekdari and Amildari services, a revision of the Sáyer on arecanut or of the land tax upon the gardens, the formation of a Fund for Famine relief, &c.

Turning next to the working of the principal Departments of the State, the first that claims our attention is the Public Works Department. In my remarks last year, I informed you that the works on the extension of the Railway from Gubbi to Harihar were being pushed forward with vigour by the Southern Mahratta Company. These works have since been completed and on the 5th August last, the lines from Mysore to Tiptur, the south-eastern section, and from Harihar to Tiptur—the Northern section—of our State Railway were finally linked together, and the through line declared open by His Highness the Maharaja. It is needless for me to enlarge here on the blessings which this great work will confer on the Province. They are recognized by all the members of this Assembly and already have we the happiness of feeling that a large area of the country is fully protected from the worst results of a Famine. But it is not proposed to rest here. The Government of India have now before them proposals for the extension southwards from Mysore to Gudalur (about 54 miles in Mysore) and there is every probability of the first section of this extension as far as Nanjangud being taken in hand this year. And on this extension through our southern Taluks, there will follow in due course, it is hoped, branches from Bangalore to Hindupur, about 54 miles, from Birur to Shimoga, about 37 miles and from Arsikere to Mysore via Hassan, Hole-Narsipur, and Yedatore, with a possible extension to Fraserpet, about 110 miles; though in what order and at what rate of annual progress these extensions will actually be undertaken it is as yet impossible to say, as these questions must depend on the definite settlement of our future financial position and of the relations of the State to the Southern Mahratta Company. You may rest assured, however, that the subject is ever present in our mind and that no effort will be spared to secure to Mysore a system of Railway communications as complete and perfect as we can make it.

Our policy in regard to ordinary Public Works continues to be carried out steadily on the lines indicated in my Address of last year, and a perusal of the Public Works Budget of the current year will show you exactly what is being done under all heads. You will observe that, of a total grant from the State of Rs. 21,00,000 (I exclude District Funds from consideration just now), Rs. 41,913 have been set apart for Military Buildings, Rs. 2,93,396 for Civil Buildings, Rs. 5,78,162 for Communications, Rs. 1,37,452 for Miscellaneous Public Improvements, and Rs. 10,49,077 for Irrigation Works.

Under the first head, the outlay is for providing decent and healthy barracks for the Mysore forces.

Under the second head, the chief outlay is on the Public Buildings you see springing up around you here in Mysore, on a few new Taluk Cutcherries necessary to supersede old and completely dilapidated offices and on numerous Dispensaries than which there can be no institutions more worthy of liberal aid from the State.

Under the third head, Communications, a large proportion of the grant is given to the great bridges at Hariharpur, Balehonnur and Belur, whilst Railway feeders, accommodation for travellers and above all, "maintenance," an ever increasing item, absorb the remainder.

Under the fourth head, Miscellaneous Public Improvements, the water-supply, drainage, and general improvements of the Mysore City in order to place the Southern Capital on a footing befitting its dignity and traditions, take nearly the whole of the allotment available for such purposes.

And under the 5th head, the long list of tanks and channels enumerated in detail in the Budget is sufficient evidence of the attention which is being given to the requirements of our Irrigation Works all over the Province. To touch in detail on any of these works would needlessly occupy your time and attention but I think every member of this Assembly will be able to see in the list, works in which the Taluk he represents is specially interested, and, as I said last year, should particular works be wanting which you deem to be deserving of consideration, they have but to be brought to notice, to receive the attention of our Engineers in due course.

In the above remarks, I excluded District Funds from consideration, though they are included in the Public Works Budget. They are distinct from the State grants for works, and are, as you are aware, administered by District Boards who select the works to be carried on by the Engineers and allot the amounts available. These funds go altogether to local roads and local minor requirements. Although the total of these funds amounts to the handsome figure of Rs. 5,26,000, the extension of local roads has of recent years been so great and there is such need for maintaining them in better order, that we have found it necessary to relieve the District Fund Budget of several of the more important lines, (most of which were formerly maintained from Provincial funds,) and to classify them as Provincial so that their maintenance now falls, and must for some time continue to fall, on the Provincial grants. This relief will, it is hoped, enable the several Boards to bring up the existing local roads to a better standard and to assign larger funds to the more pressing sanitary requirements of their Districts—requirements which, I am sure, will readily enlist your sympathy and co-operation. And I may add that without your active co-operation in measures of this kind, and similar co-operation on the part of all the more enlightened and leading inhabitants of the country, the successful inauguration and enforcement of sanitary measures, such as I allude to, must be a practical impossibility to the State and to the Local Boards.

Last year, I placed before you the comparative progressive outlay on irrigation during the preceding 6 years. The statement showed that the expenditure had risen gradually from Rs. 3,28,368 in 1881—82 to Rs. 7,14,277 in 1887—88. I may now add that in 1888—89, it amounted to Rs. 9,61,950, whilst in the current year we anticipate an outlay of 10½ lakhs.

Having thus disposed of the past and present, I may now touch briefly on the future. The forecast programme to which I had already occasion to refer has been prepared in the Public Works Secretariat after very careful scrutiny, and it includes all projects costing each over Rs. 20,000, which it is proposed to undertake during the next 5 years, if all goes well. The programme contemplates an annual outlay (exclusive of minor works, repairs and maintenance) as follows:—

	Rs.
In 1890—91	9,19,000
„ 1891—92	13,53,000
„ 1892—93	14,77,000
„ 1893—94	15,41,000
„ 1894—95	15,29,000

It embraces all known requirements under “Military and Civil Buildings,” “Roads,” and “Miscellaneous Public Improvements,” whilst under “Irrigation” are entered all major works already sanctioned or about to be sanctioned, as well as all projects which are under contemplation, but which, in the present stage of investigation, cannot as yet be pronounced as absolutely remunerative and feasible. All that can at present be said of these is that a selection has been made of such as are likely to turn out well. The great Marikanave Dam is included and so is a great project for a new Anicut across the Cauvery, to be called after His Highness the Maharaja, together with an extensive system of new irrigation therefrom and the permanent improvement of the old Chikka Devaraya Sagar, Virjanadi and Devaraya systems. The irrigation works entered in the programme are expected to cost in the aggregate the large sum of 90½ lakhs, but the outlay would be distributed as follows over the current and next five years:—

	Rs.
1889—90	9,75,000
1890—91	10,08,000
1891—92	11,51,500
1892—93	12,42,000
1893—94	12,90,000

62,45,500

of about 28 lakhs to be provided in future years.

The above is a very extensive and satisfactory programme of Public Works for the next five years, but whether it can be carried out in its integrity must depend on the exact state of the public Treasury year after year.

All I can now announce is it is our present intention to adhere as far as possible and as far as our means will allow, to this forecast which exhibits to you in a practical and readily intelligible form the progressive policy we are pursuing in regard to Public Works. A translation of the forecast is now before you and I shall be glad to receive and consider any suggestions by way either of alterations or additions which you may be able to make from your intimate knowledge of local wants and local interests.

Tank Maintenance.—I cannot close my remarks on this Department of our administration without alluding to the scheme of Tank maintenance which commanded your attention during the last two years, and which continues to engross the attention of our District officials. In many Taluks a conspicuous measure of success has been achieved and the ryots have come to recognize their direct and deep interest in the success of the scheme. But I regret to say there are still not a few Taluks, notably in the Kolar District, where the ryots still hold back. It is however hoped that the good example set in Shimoga, Arsikere, Sira, Hiriya and Mandya will soon be followed throughout the other Taluks of the Province. As I did before, I now appeal to you again to use your influence with the people to promote a measure in which their interests and well-being are so largely involved.

Revenue Administration.—Advantage has been taken of the introduction of the new Revenue Code to inaugurate a system for the regular hearing and disposal of all revenue matters coming before the Government in appeal or revision. The Revenue Code excludes from the jurisdiction of the Civil Courts an important class of questions which arise before the Revenue authorities and it is essential that these and other matters involving rights and often of a quasi-judicial nature should not be finally decided without thorough investigation, and full opportunity given to the parties interested to support their claims and contentions. Under such circumstances, His Highness the Maharaja has been pleased to direct that all Revenue appeals and revision cases coming before the Government shall be heard and decided by at least two Members of His Highness' Council, that the procedure adopted should in essence be that of the Civil Courts and that the decisions passed should be published monthly.

Judicial Changes.—The question of reconstituting the District and Sessions Court at Bangalore, or of adopting some other alternative for removing the anomaly of the three Judges of the Chief Court having to hear an appeal from one of themselves, has lately been under the consideration of the Government. In the interests of a more popular administration of justice, a better arrangement has long been called for, but our difficulty has been to reconcile the constitution of a District and Sessions Court at Bangalore with leaving sufficient work for the three Judges of the Chief Court. After full consideration, the Government have decided to alter the Chief Court Regulation so as to allow of the appointment of a District and Sessions Judge at Bangalore for the original and appellate Criminal work of a Sessions Court and for the original Civil work of a District Court, leaving to the Chief Court all Civil appeals from the Munsiffs of the Nundydroog Division. This arrangement would enable the Sessions Judge to be appointed to hold trials at the Head-Quarters of each District once in two or three months, thereby saving to the numerous witnesses called upon to attend Sessions trials, the inconvenience and expense of a long journey. It will also give the Judges of the Chief Court more time than they have now to devote to the inspection of subordinate Courts. Altogether, the measure is one calculated generally to improve the administration of justice and especially of criminal justice.

Forests.—To conserve all eligible forest tracts and to husband their resources, to aid natural reproduction by artificial means, to replace indiscriminate felling by systematic operations, to allow the agricultural classes facilities for grazing and for meeting their essential wants and to ensure an unfailing supply of sandalwood—these have been the cardinal principles of the Policy of His Highness' Government in this

Forest conservancy, indeed, is a most beneficial measure and although attended with some immediate temporary inconveniences, its eventual advantages are manifold and unquestionable.

During the past year, Reserved forests received considerable accessions and upwards of 232 square miles of more or less valuable jungle tracts were brought under conservancy regulations. Large additions were made to the planted area, 2,883 acres or nearly four square miles being stocked with timber and fuel trees.

While thus increasing the forest resources and revenue, the interests of the agricultural classes have not been overlooked. These are exempt from payment for fuel for their own use and for unreserved wood and certain Forest produce for their agricultural purposes. They can obtain on favorable rates timber and bamboos for building purposes.

Sandalwood which forms the back-bone of the Forest Revenue, is continuing to receive much attention. Over large tracts, the cultivation of this valuable tree is being carried on with systematic care and attention. And natural sandal preserves have been brought under protection. The ancient system of sandalwood conservancy and growth being looked after by a special establishment of Manegars has been revived. The collections of sandalwood last year were enhanced by the removal of old roots abandoned or forgotten in former years. The demand for sandalwood has risen high within the past two years, as evidenced by the high rates secured.

The subordinate service in the Forest Department has been improved by the scale of its pay being brought more into harmony with that of the corresponding grades in other Departments. The establishment has had likewise to be strengthened in consequence of the expansion of operations.

Three graduated students have been deputed for special training in the Forest School at Dehra Dun and are intended to strengthen the superior grades in which there are already three graduated Sub-Assistant Conservators who passed out of the Forest School some time back. Three Rangers already in service are also undergoing the prescribed Forest course at Dehra Dun.

Elephant Khaddas.—The total expenditure on Khaddas has been Rs. 66,000. This amount includes a sum of Rs. 30,000, being the cost of 12 Kumki elephants brought from Dacca for Khadda operations. Altogether 51 elephants were caught. Of these, 31 of the value of Rs. 26,680 were retained. We expect another catch within two months, and the value of some 25 elephants to be retained out of these is estimated at about Rs. 25,000. There will thus be a substantial profit on the year's operations. But in organizing Khadda operations, an important object we had in view was to afford relief to ryots from the depredations of wild elephants. These animals would appear to have increased largely and to have begun to cause serious damage to crops in parts of Mysore, Kadur and Shimoga. The experience gained in Mysore will be useful in turning these pests into sources of profit.

Education.—Education in all its branches has continued to advance, and the improvement has perhaps been most marked in vernacular and primary education. The statistics show that there are now 19 Taluk schools with from 150 to 300 pupils in each and 29 others with from 100 to 150. The formation of prosperous Hobli Schools into Taluk branch-schools has now become a very popular measure, and there are already more than 100 such schools, the largest of which are scarcely inferior to Taluk Schools and have an attendance of from 100 to 300 pupils. Meanwhile, fresh requisitions for Hobli schools are being continually received, and the Government have found it necessary, as already explained, to relieve the Local Funds, originally designed for primary education, from charges on account of Taluk Schools.

The wants of English instruction are well met by the existing Colleges and High Schools at District Head-quarters and the Municipal Schools in Taluk stations. The results of the University Examinations have been, on the whole, favorable and testify to the maintenance of a good standard.

Government aid has been newly given to a large number of private schools, among which are included many giving instruction in Sanskrit. The promotion of the study of Sanskrit in conjunction with that of Kanarese, is calculated to raise the general standard of education in the country, and the annual examinations conducted by the Palace Pandits in connection with the Mysore Sanskrit College provide a trustworthy criterion by which to test the efficiency of the large number of Sanskrit schools now in existence.

Female education is advancing in every direction and may now be considered as an object of general approval. Her Highness the Maharani's Girls' School at Mysore is looked up to as a guide, and many new and successful schools have been established in various parts. The recent appointment of a lady from England as the Lady Superintendent is an important step from which very good results are expected.

Archæology.—The Archæological survey was extended over nine Taluks and one Sub-Taluk. The inscriptions obtained include several of considerable antiquity and importance, especially those of the Kadamba, Rashtrakuta and Ganga kings.

Several manuscript works of the highest value for the history of the Kanarese language and literature have been acquired. They tend to show that a high state of general culture prevailed a thousand years ago, especially in parts now known as the "Southern Mahratta country" but technically recognized as the "Karnataka Prant" which are directly united with Mysore by the recently opened line of Railway.

Anche.—The transfer of the local Anche to the Imperial Postal Department was effected on 1st April 1889. The change financially is a decided gain to the State to the extent of Rs. 60,000 per annum. But in agreeing to the transfer, the Darbar have been swayed by considerations higher than those of mere financial gain. Surrounded on every side by British Territory and its highly developed Postal system, the isolation of the local Post could not long continue without causing marked inconvenience to trade and without impeding general progress. With the Railways and roads which are now so rapidly opening out every part of the country and the growth of commercial relations with other parts of India, Mysore is expected to keep pace with the requirements of the times. Requisitions had indeed been made from various quarters for the insurance of parcels money orders, telegraph offices and other new wants, such as are elsewhere met by the Postal Department. But it was apparent that such an elaborate system could not usefully be attempted by a purely local Post, for, the essential condition of success in every Postal system is centralized control and absolute uniformity of rules and organization. There were some difficulties in improving our own Anche so as to give the public all these advantages and to fit it in to the Imperial system. These considerations influenced His Highness' Government in deciding to amalgamate the local with the Imperial Post and they believe that the measure will very materially add to the convenience of the people.

Military force for Imperial Service.—You are doubtless aware that the various Native Princes throughout India, including our own Maharaja, made offers some time back to re-organize and improve their Military forces, and to place them at the disposal of the Imperial Government for active service with the regular armies of the Empire. These offers were all received in the spirit in which they were made, and the process of reorganization and improvement of existing armies at once commenced. Major Melliss was deputed to control the work of reorganization and the scheme has already been completed as regards Kashmir and the Punjab and Rajputana States. Its extension to States further from the north-western frontier has now commenced, and Major Melliss is expected shortly to visit Mysore on his important mission. The Mysore army having, from various causes, been greatly reduced from time to time, the offer of His Highness the Maharaja was not merely to improve the existing forces but to raise and maintain a suitable new force. There is in the State excellent military material from which a very efficient force can readily be raised. In physique the Mysorean is far superior to the average man of the plains, and he is specially noted for his endurance and hard work in distant countries and under the most trying conditions of climate and fatigue. The Bédar Infantry and the Mysore Cavalry, so well known for their valor, were all drawn from warlike classes who are indigenous to the country, and who will now, as of old, furnish excellent recruits for a new army. Our climate places us in a better position than most other Provinces for maintaining an excellent Cavalry ; and with our well-known Amrut Mahal cattle, we possess exceptional advantages in the matter of transport. These considerations and the traditions of the Royal Family of Mysore induced His Highness to place the military resources of the State at the disposal of the Empire, and His Highness eagerly looks forward to the day when he will have the satisfaction to know that his State is able to take a direct part in Imperial Defence, in a way befitting its own high rank and its obligations to the Empire.

It is now my pleasing duty to announce to you that His Royal Highness Prince Albert Victor, the grandson of our beloved Sovereign the Queen Empress has been pleased to accept our invitation to visit Mysore in the course of his tour through India in November next. The Darbar, I need hardly assure you, have adopted measures for welcoming the Royal Visitor in a manner befitting his exalted rank. Her Majesty the Queen has, by according Her Gracious sanction to this visit of the Prince to India, given us another proof of her love to India and its people. To the Royal House of Mysore, Her Majesty and her Government have throughout been particularly kind and His Highness feels that the expected visit of the illustrious Prince will further strengthen the interest Her Gracious Majesty takes in all that concerns the well-being of Mysore.

8. Live-stock must be delivered on the ground twenty-four hours before the opening of the Show.

9. Vegetables and other perishable articles will be received at 6 A. M. on the opening day.

10. Articles that are not delivered at the Show-yard, as provided in rules 7, 8 and 9, will only be eligible to compete for prizes if the Committee consider that just cause has been shown for delay in delivery; and the prizes have not already been awarded, when they are produced.

11. The Committee cannot undertake the charge of any exhibits, and it is therefore requested that none may be consigned to the Secretary when being forwarded to the exhibition.

12. Exhibitors will have to pay every expense of transit, delivery, fixing and removing their exhibits, and they must either personally or by their agents superintend the reception and removal of these exhibits; in default whereof the Committee reserves to itself the right of doing whatever may be considered necessary at the expense of the exhibitor.

13. Every reasonable care will be taken of the exhibits while on the exhibition grounds, but no responsibility will be accepted by the Committee. The regulations laid down for ensuring the safety of exhibits will be strictly enforced.

14. Caretakers will be admitted to the Show-yard at the discretion of the Committee when they are required to take charge of valuable exhibits.

15. All stock and exhibits of all kinds must be removed within twenty-four hours after the close of the exhibition; exhibits remaining after that time will be disposed of as the exhibition authorities see fit.

16. No exhibit of any description will be allowed to leave the exhibition ground until the close of the exhibition, save in very exceptional cases, and then only by permission of the Director of the Show-yard.
17. The competing stock and exhibits will be marked with the numbers and the competitors' names.
18. The age of all live-stock (classified by age) will be calculated from the 1st July of the year of birth, unless the exact age is specified.
19. Every animal must be properly secured by a nose-rope or otherwise, and dangerous animals may be refused admission or removed from the yard by order of the authorities.
20. Each animal or lot competing separately must be in charge of a caretaker, who must remain in charge of the exhibit and be ready to lead it out at any time as required by the Committee.
21. No diseased animals can be admitted, and should any animal manifest symptoms of disease during the exhibition, it will be immediately removed from the premises.
22. The Committee will supply water for stock, and arrange for keeping available in the yard a supply of fodder which can be obtained on purchase, but they will undertake no responsibility as to the feeding or care of stock.
23. The judges will, except in the case of live-stock, which will be judged on the opening day, proceed to award the prizes during the day prior to the opening of the Show, as may be convenient, and arrangements will be made on the three days preceding the Show for testing the implements and machines entered for competition, as far as may be practicable.
24. The judges in each class or group will not be less than three in number; they are not bound to award any or all the prizes in any case if the exhibits do not merit any reward. As a general rule no second money prize will be awarded unless there are more than three qualified exhibits in a class, no third prize unless there be six, and no fourth prize unless the number of competing articles be twelve or more. The judges may, however, recommend the relaxation of the rule in cases where a small class of special merit is produced. They may, with the approval of the Committee, reduce, or withhold the prizes offered where there is little or no competition or merit.
25. The Committee may, on the recommendation of the judges of any section or group, award special prizes in cases for which the prize list does not provide if such award will not cause the total grant for that section or group to be exceeded, but such recommendations should not be accepted unless the character of the article is such as may, from the published prize list, be considered worthy of encouragement.
26. In addition to the money prize, each winner of a prize will be entitled to a certificate. An "Honorable mention" will be awarded to such articles as may deserve encouraging notice, though no prize be available.
27. Government institutions or institutions receiving aid from Government will not compete, but may exhibit. Government officers individually may exhibit and compete, but in the event of prizes being awarded to their exhibits no money will be paid to them, but certificates only be granted.
